It is our understanding that [Customer Name] wishes to use our technical services for the performance of certain programming and installation activities. To proceed, you are requested to execute this form prior to us conducting work on your system as we do not wish to unintentionally violate Federal Communications Commission (FCC) rule section 90.427(b) which prohibits the programming of "frequencies for which the licensee using the transmitter is not authorized." Violation of this rule section may result in substantial FCC fines for both of our companies.

You acknowledge the following (check all that apply):

- We do not hold a valid FCC license(s) and have been notified that a current FCC license is required to operate the radio equipment that is being serviced;
 - We have been offered FCC licensing preparation assistance and have elected to obtain an FCC license independently;
 - We have the sole responsibility of obtaining an FCC license to begin transmitting on our requested programmed radios or infrastructure;
 - We understand that operating our system without a valid FCC license which authorizes use of the programmed frequencies may result in a violation notice and FCC fines;
- or
- Our FCC license call sign for the frequencies being programmed is _____.

By checking all appropriate acknowledgement statements above and signing below, you agree to release and hold harmless [Your Company Name] and any affiliate companies from any claim or liability that may be incurred through your operation of frequencies within the programmed radios or infrastructure for which a valid FCC license authorizing such use is not in your possession.
